A long time ago...

A "mad scientist" created Gatt-- the ultimate killing machine.

JUNK STORY
Part1: Revenge

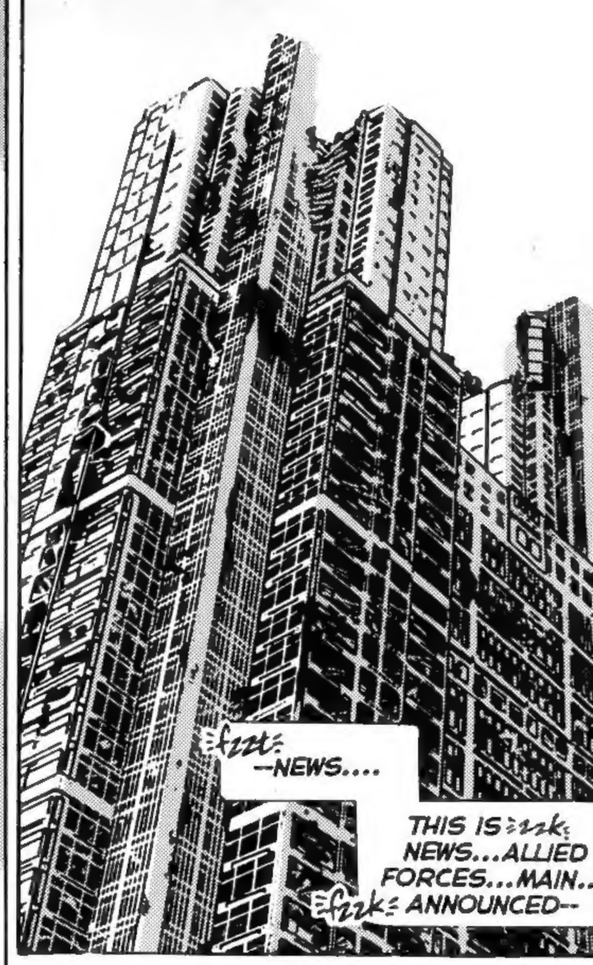
Once set in motion, the killing machine would continue to destroy all living creatures until the end of all things. It would never stop.

It would never know exhaustion, or fear, or need, and would continue its course of destruction without pause, as if the word "rest" had no meaning for it.

The fires left burning in its wake began to deplete the oxygen from the atmosphere of mother earth.

Countries sank beneath the cold gray seas and acid rain dissolved everything it touched. As the cities exploded, great storms of iron and steel fell from the skies and buried those who sought asylum in their hiding places.

And so time moved on towards its end...



I DON'T CARE. HOW MUCH?
